RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN CORPORATE REPORTING IN INDIA

Consequent to the massive growth of corporations in the country and the world around the concept of corporate reporting is gaining pyramidal significance in the corporate world. Corporate Reporting, which remained captive only in the hands of management, is now described as the process of communicating both financial and non-financial information as well as resources and performance of a company to its stakeholders that sheds light on a company's state of affairs before the public. Corporate reporting in India is primarily governed by the Companies Act, 2013 and also comes under the regulatory norms of The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). In addition to these, Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) and Bureau of Public Enterprises (BPE) have also brought radical changes in corporate reporting requirements of the companies. As an integral and indispensable part of the corporate world corporate reporting is getting evolved in all its wings and interpretations keeping pace with growing technology and aspirations of the stakeholders. Companies need to make a paradigm shift in their information dissemination mechanism through extensive reporting, the only alternative left before them for their survival. Tomorrow's corporate reporting should be more flexible and be able to adapt the changes to come.
